SPECIAL CENSUS SUPERVISOR Bill Lytell begins checks of streets in county's two municipalities prior to commencement of new census. Mrs. Dale St. Amant, secretary, is pointing to division of Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Office is located in Bay Senior High School Cafeteria, not otherwise being used while students are on vacation.

Charles Johnson named to HB advisory board

Charles H. Johnson, Waveland businessman and civic leader, has been elected to the advisory board of directors of Hancock Bank, according to an announcement Friday (June 17) by Donald E. Sutter, chairman of the board, and Leo W. Seal, Jr., president and chief executive officer. He replaces W. Ray Gordon of Waveland who passed away in December.

Johnson, 43, has been in the general contracting business since 1961 and is president of Charles H. Johnson, Inc., general contractor, and Universal Mini Warehouses, Inc., Waveland. He is presently serving his second term as alderman of Ward 1 and is mayor pro tem of the City of Waveland. He is president of the Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association.

A lifelong resident of Waveland, he attended Waveland Elementary School and Bay St. Louis High School.

He serves on the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission, is a member of the board of the Krewe of Triton Carnival Association, and a past member of the board of the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club.

Johnson is also a member of the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, Waveland

Civic Association, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Shamrockers, Inc., Diamondhead Golf and Country

Club, and St. Claire's Catholic Church, where he serves on the Fair committee. Johnson is married to the former Gerald Samron, and they have a son, Charles H. Johnson, Jr., and daughter, Mrs. Cathy Ann Johnson Chisholm.

In welcoming Johnson to the advisory board, Sutter cited his contributions to the community and area as well as his personal and business accomplishments on the Coast.

"Although we were all deeply grieved at Mr. Gordon's passing," Sutter said, "we sincerely believe that Mr. Johnson is particularly qualified to provide strong leadership and effective representation from his area as a member of the board."

Seal said "his lifelong residency in the area, his close family ties and his desire to promote the steady growth of the area through sound business practices, parallels the bank's own philosophy of service and concern for the economic vitality of South Mississippi."

Johnson is the son of Mrs. Dolores Ladner of Waveland and the late John Earl Johnson.

Census underway in Hancock Co.

by JAKE JACOB
Enumerators wearing official identification tags of the U.S. Census Bureau are now out on their rounds, visiting each house in Hancock County to procure an up-to-date population count.

The special census is being sought by the county as a means of obtaining its full share of federal programs and funding. As matters now stand the county is using the 1970 census head-count of 17,500, a figure widely disputed and thought by many to be between 20-22,000.

Bill Lytell, special census supervisor from the bureau's Dallas office, working out of a project office in the Bay High School Cafeteria is in charge of the operation.

The special census was approved by the county and the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Friday, June 17, 1977, will be the magic census date should the expected figures prove true.

The various political identities within the county have based their estimates on two major themes.

One is that the 1970 census was taken before the negative impact of Hurricane Camille (Aug. '69) had been overcome, and the second is the continued influx of families to ever increasing developments throughout the county.

Lytell said Thursday, the day before "kick-off," that he expected to employ about 40 to 50 enumerators, working with four crew leaders.

The crew leaders are: William Sanders, Norma Richardson, and Ted Stechmann of Bay St. Louis, and Pamela Gromberg of Waveland.

Mrs. Dale St. Amant, also of Bay St. Louis, has been engaged as office clerk.

Lytell said that while many persons who applied were suited for the crew leader positions, the four selected were both qualified and able to work full-time at the census.

He said the information being sought by the enumerators is of a confidential nature and will not be released to anyone outside of the bureau.

When the census is complete the books are all to be bundled and sent to Jeffersonville, Indiana, location of the bureau's storage center.

He said that weather permitting, he should complete the census in about two weeks, with a "ball park" count being made available to the county in about 21 days from Friday.

The official tally will follow shortly after that time.

Lytell praised the effort extended by the Mississippi State Employment Service personnel who, he said, handed him approximately 100 applications, all in alphabetical order, and all scheduled for four different test and evaluation sessions, upon his arrival.

"This was a wonderful start to this special census."

"Also, while on the subject, I would like to thank the supervisors and other officials for their excellent cooperation."

"Such an attitude gives a great boost to a difficult undertaking like this," Lytell said.

The census supervisors said both he and the crew leaders would maintain a high level of "coverage control."

He asked for the cooperation of homeowners in answering the enumerators' questions which, he said, were less detailed than those asked in the national census.

Lytell said he will be available at 467-8220 during office hours to answer any questions from persons throughout the county.

"The phone will be manned until completion of the census and persons having questions are encouraged to call," Lytell concluded.

AMTRAK indorsed by MCTA

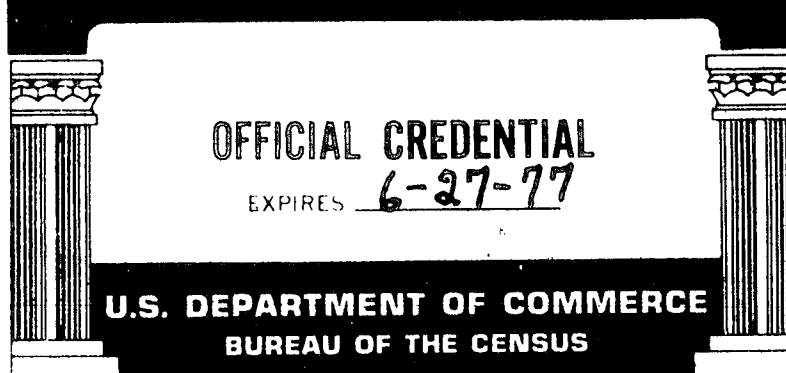

Recently the Board of Commissioners of the Mississippi Coast Transportation Authority endorsed the basic concept of the AMTRAK operation of a passenger train from Jacksonville, to New Orleans, with intermediate stops along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The train would operate over the L&N system along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

MCTA Board Chairman, Alan Clark, stated that the Transportation Authority has passed a resolution supporting the project to gain approval of the train, formerly known as the "Southwind". Clark said that the operation of such a passenger service would be a great assistance in the continuing development of the tourist industry on the Gulf Coast and in providing a greater degree of mobility to Gulf Coast citizens.

The operation of the AMTRAK passenger service would be complementary to the MCTA. The bus system would provide the necessary feeder service, in transporting passengers to and from the stations serving the AMTRAK operations.

Clark stated that copies of the MCTA resolutions endorsing the proposed AMTRAK service would be forwarded to the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK), the Mississippi Congressional Delegation, and other agencies interested in the approval of the rail passenger service.

HEW gives approval

Ten school districts in Mississippi's Fifth Congressional District, including Bay St. Louis, will collectively receive almost $550,000 through a federal program which channels money to schools attended by children of federal employees, Congressman Trent Lott, R-Miss., said today.

Lott said the funds, which total $548,433, are made available through Public Law 874.

Lott said the following amounts have been certified by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's office of education for immediate payment:

Gulfport, $240,980; Harrison County, $141,997; Ocean Springs, $95,085; Pascagoula, $31,542; Bay St. Louis, $16,737; Perry County, $9,513; Jackson County, $6,885; Forrest County Agricultural School District, $4,338; Lumberton, $728; and Laurel, $624.

Lott said the amount certified for payment is determined from the tentative entitlement for the fiscal year computed on the basis of information and estimates contained in the applications of the school districts.

Treasury checks containing the amounts will be mailed to the school districts within the next week, he said.

Rodeo Queen coronation may see Hancock princess crowned

by JAKE JACOB
Three young ladies from Hancock County have been accepted for entry into the Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo queen contest, the main event of the pre-rodeo pageant set for June 30 at the Broadwater Beach Hotel.

Already named Colonels to the Staff of Governor Edwin Edwards of Louisiana, and honorary citizens of the City of Baton Rouge, where they visited as goodwill ambassadors, the three princesses are:

Letitia Jane Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Haas of Bay St. Louis, representing that city;

Madonna Grace Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Peterson of Waveland, representing that city;

Kathy Leigh Webre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Webre, of Bay St. Louis, representing Hancock County.

This Tuesday the girls will travel to Jackson where they will be introduced to Governor Cliff Finch.

The trio are among 15 princesses chosen from across the Mississippi Gulf Coast to vie for queenly honors on June 30.

King Neptune for 1977 is Sam Favre, a Bay St. Louis attorney.

Questioned Friday as to their experiences so far, Miss Haas said, "This contest is giving us an opportunity to become involved in our community."

"I think it is a great honor to represent this area and help promote its activities."

Madonna Peterson echoed the same sentiments adding, "It also gives us a chance to meet different people in different forms of life, and a chance to learn what these people think and do."

Hancock County's representative Kathy Leigh Webre, said she was thrilled at having been chosen and ranked the experience among those on the top of her list of "good things that have happened to me."

She said, "I know I will never forget this experience and I thank those who made it possible."

The Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo has been an annual event since 1947 and traditionally has always been held over the July 4 holiday weekend.

The Hancock princesses were given their taste of the requirements of royalty during a trip to Baton Rouge where, after being introduced to the state senate, they heard this year's reigning queen, Dianne Randall, give a short speech to the Louisiana legislators.

The thrills of living as royalty were also made known to the princesses when, wearing their tiaras and summer dresses, they were driven in Gulfport and Biloxi police cars to the Louisiana capital where they picked up an additional escort of motorcycle mounted police for their triumphant journey to the capitol building.

Following this appearance, the princesses were received by Mayor W.W. "Woody" Dumas, who presented them with the keys to the city and an honorary citizenship.

Finally they rode to the governor's mansion where after meeting the governor and the lieutenant governor, Jimmy Fitzmorris, they were initiated as colonels. After lunch the girls visited a plantation for interviews with WAFB TV's personality, "Old Beachcomber."

BUCCANEER PARK BEACHES were back in business catering to tourists Thursday afternoon, just a scant 24 hours after the first reports of menhaden washing ashore from the broken net of a "pogey" fishing boat. Prompt reaction by the industry who, on being informed of the situation, immediately organized spotting planes to determine the spill's extent, and authorized payment, enabled Boat One Supervisor Bert Courge to divert equipment and men to the job first thing that morning.

Grant use cloud forms as county figures $ slice

by JAKE JACOB
The disposition of some $290,000 in Economic Development Administration (EDA) funds allocated to Hancock County has not yet been resolved, according to Supervisor President Alton A. Kellar, who was notified of the award last week.

Kellar, in a telephone interview, said the county has a series of applications pending with EDA but the notification did not specify to which project the funding had been allocated.

STUDENT HONORED

Vicki Varner, Ole Miss junior, is one of only two students elected to the board of directors of a national honorary in home economics. A dietetics major, she was chosen for the two-year term by a mail vote from 75 chapters of Kappa Omicron Phi. Miss Varner is also president of the organization's Ole Miss chapter.

Sunburn warning issued

In a hurry to get started on the gorgeous summer sun? Better think twice. That beautiful tan will be gone in a few months and you may be left with dry, scaly, wrinkled skin, that looks and feels much older than it actually is, according to the Mississippi State Medical Association (MSMA).

Although sunlight is the ultimate source of food and energy, overexposure to it can cause severe, and often permanent damage to the skin. Dermatologists (physicians who are skin specialists) warn that prolonged exposure to the sun can thicken and toughen the skin, aging it prematurely and cause it to lose elasticity. Severe, prolonged and repeated sunburns may eventually lead to skin cancer, the most common form of cancer known today.

Before venturing out into the spring or summer sun, coat your skin with a good sunscreensing preparation. Limit your exposure to a few minutes the first time out and gradually increase the time. Avoid using reflecting mirrors which can quickly burn the skin, often before you realize it. Avoid sunning during the hours between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. when the sun is most intense. Many people often forget that it is just as easy to burn on a cloudy day as a sunny day and that sunlight reflected from city pavement and sand or snow can increase the sun's intensity. To protect your eyes, wear proper sunglasses, especially around water.

Questions on sunburn may be addressed to the Mississippi State Medical Association, Box 5229, Jackson, MS 39216.

STUDENT WINS

Vicki Roach of Utica, a graduating Ole Miss law student, has been chosen from nominees of law schools throughout the United States as winner of the Tenth Annual Constance Baker Motley Award, named for the U.S. District Judge for the Southern District of New York. Ms. Roach, who accepted the award in New York, was selected as the outstanding woman in the last year of law school by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

Action Checklist Recap

Here is a list of the many things to consider before, during and after a hurricane. Some of the safety rules will make things easier for you during a hurricane. All are important and could help save your life and the lives of others.

Stay or Leave

When a hurricane threatens your area, you will have to make the decision whether you should evacuate or whether you can ride out the storm in safety at home.

If local authorities recommend evacuation, you should leave! Their advice is based on knowledge of the strength of the storm and its potential for death and destruction.

In general:

- If you live on the coastline or offshore islands, plan to leave.
- If you live in a mobile home, plan to leave.
- If you live near a river or in a flood plain, plan to leave.
- If you live on high ground, away from coastal beaches, consider staying.

In any case, the ultimate decision to stay or leave will be yours. Study the following list and carefully consider the factors involved—especially the items pertaining to storm surge.

At Beginning of Hurricane Season (June) Make Plans for Action

- Learn the storm surge history and elevation of your area
- Learn safe routes inland
- Learn location of official shelters
- Determine where to move your boat in an emergency
- Trim back dead wood from trees

When a Hurricane Watch is Issued for Your Area

- Check often for official bulletins on radio and TV
- Fuel car
- Check mobile home tie-downs
- Moor small craft or move to safe shelter
- Stock up on canned provisions
- Check supplies of special medicines and drugs
- Check batteries for radio and flashlights
- Secure lawn furniture and other loose material outdoors
- Tape, board, or shutter windows to prevent shattering
- Wedge sliding glass doors to prevent their lifting from their tracks

When a Hurricane Warning is Issued for Your Area

- Stay tuned to radio or TV for official bulletins
- Stay home if sturdy and on high ground
- Board up garage and porch doors
- Move valuables to upper floors
- Bring in pets
- Fill containers (bathtub) with several days supply of drinking water
- Turn up refrigerator to maximum cold and don't open unless necessary
- Use phone only for emergencies
- Stay indoors on the downwind side of house away from windows
- Beware of the eye of the hurricane

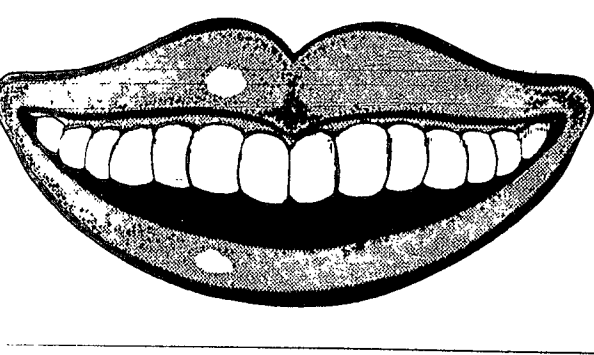

- Leave mobile homes
- Leave areas which might be affected by storm tide or stream flooding
- Leave early—in daylight if possible
- Shut off water and electricity at main stations
- Take small valuables and papers but travel light
- Leave food and water for pets (shelters will not take)
- Lock up house
- Drive carefully to nearest designated shelter using recommended evacuation routes.

After the All-Clear is Given

- Drive carefully; watch for dangling electrical wires, undermined roads, flooded low spots
- Don't sight-see
- Report broken or damaged water, sewer, and electrical lines
- Use caution re-entering home
- Check for gas leaks
- Check food and water for spoilage

Clip and Save for future reference.

SS checks to carry cost of living hike

A cost-of-living increase in monthly social security benefits will be included in checks delivered on July 1, according to Burdett M. Mimms, social security acting district manager in Gulfport.

The increase will amount to 5.9 percent for most people getting social security payments. The automatic cost-of-living provision was added to the social security law in 1972.

"People getting social security checks don't have to do anything to get the higher payments," Mimms said. "The increase will be added automatically."

The increase is based on the rise in consumer prices from the first 3 months of 1976 to the first 3 months of 1977.

With the cost-of-living increase, average social security retirement payments to retired workers will go from $221 to $234 a month. Average social security disability payments to disabled workers will go from $248 to $262 a month. Average social security survivors payments to widowed mothers or fathers with two children in their care will go from $517 to $547 a month.

Social security pays monthly benefits to over 33 million people. The payments are funded by social security contributions from employees, employers, and self-employed people.

Employees and employers contribute 5.85 percent each of the first $16,500 of yearly earnings from jobs covered by social security. Self-employed people contribute 7.9 percent.

Social Security checks are usually delivered on the 3rd of the month. When the 3rd falls on Saturday or Sunday, the checks are delivered the preceding Friday. July 3 is on a Sunday this year, and the checks will be delivered on Friday, July 1.

WORKSHOP - The Vocational-Technical Division of the State Board of Education is sponsoring a workshop June 6-24 to develop instructional materials for use in residential electrical wiring programs. Participants in the workshop, under the direction of the Research and Curriculum Unit at Mississippi State University, include (front row, L-R) William Wington of Northeast Mississippi Jr. College, Booneville; Ronald Fletcher of Pearl River Jr. College, Bay St. Louis; and James T. Jackson of North Panola Vocational Complex, Como; (second row, L-R) James Martin of Pontotoc Ridge Area Vocational Complex, Pontotoc; Ralph Parish of A. P. Fatheree Vocational Complex, Laurel; Lloyd Hutcherson of John C. Stennis Vocational Complex, DeKalb; and Howard L. Newby, MSU Research and Curriculum specialist and director of the workshop.

Fletcher participates in Miss State workshop

Ronald Fletcher, PRJC in Bay St. Louis, was one of 15 industrial electricity teachers participating in an instructional materials workshop sponsored by the Vocational-Technical Division of the State Department of Education.

The workshop, which began June 6 and will end June 24, is being directed by the Research and Curriculum Unit at Mississippi State University. Participants will develop and adapt residential electrical wiring instructional materials and methodology for use in vocational-technical centers throughout the state. The finished curriculum guide will provide resource information for vocational instructors in electrical wiring. Howard L. Newby, research and curriculum specialist at MSU, is directing the workshop. Dr. Herbert Bruce, director of the curriculum unit at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, is assisting participants in the curriculum development process. Contractors from industry will evaluate how well the new materials prepare students to meet the needs of industry. The materials will include instructions on blueprinting, installation of switches and outlet boxes, installation of fixtures, special circuits, and service entrances, electric heating, and miscellaneous wiring tasks.

MEC to sponsor leadership seminars

Some 50 young Mississippi leaders will be selected this summer to participate in two Mississippi Economic Council public affairs seminars.

MEC's Leadership Program involves some 50 young business, professional and student leaders in discussion of current public issues. The two seminars will be held in the coming 10 months.

"This program has been highly successful in the past three years," said Leadership Mississippi Committee Chairman Lewis Whitfield. "Each year, more than 250 persons are nominated for the 50 slots available. And, those who are selected invariably enjoy and learn from the seminars."

Whitfield, senior vice president of First Citizens National Bank of Tupelo, said the only requirement for being nominated is that the nominee be 35 years old or younger.

"The purpose of the program is to help the state's future leaders understand and become involved in important issues," he said. "They gain a great deal of insight into the problems that are confronting the state and nation by participating in the seminars."

Past topics of Leadership Seminars have been "The Role of the News Media in Government," "The Balance of Power in Mississippi," "Which Way, America?" and "Black, White or Gray - The Ethics of Business and Government."

Speakers at previous sessions have included former presidential speech writers Patrick Buchanan and John McLaughlin, journalist and Assistant Secretary of State Hoddin Carter, former Governor Bill Waller, and former Maryland U.S. Attorney George Beall, the man who prosecuted Spiro Agnew.

GARDEN OF THE MONTH in Waveland was at 407 Waveland Avenue, the home of Mrs. Mathilda Gambino. Monthly honors are selected by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club. (ECHO Photo by Jerry Whittle)

The grant was one of three to the county announced last week by the EDA. The others were: $345,000 to the City of Waveland, and $207,000 to the City of Bay St. Louis. The county's applications for EDA funding ranged through roads, bridges, beach clean-up, education, and airport construction. "It's a mess," Kellar said. He said that both the Port and Harbor Commission and the County School Board had contacted him since notice of the announcement was received, each seeking all or a portion of the money. Kellar said the board is in the process of establishing a list of county need priorities and that will probably decide the issue. Waveland's funding is to apply against water and sewer system extensions, with the major earmark being niched for drilling of a water well north of the tracks. This well backs-up recent announcements of construction of a new fire hall and the letting of bids for a fire engine having a 1000 gallon capacity. Aldermen said recently that their aim was to have the north side completely self-sufficient for emergency fire fighting in the event of train blockage when such occurs. Further, they indicated application is to be made to the fire rating bureau to have a reduced rate applied to the city due to its extensive new facilities. The Bay St. Louis grant is also to be used in the extension of water and sewer facilities, these to the newly annexed area north of the old city limits.

included in his coverage) and Wayne Baggett, Disaster preparedness Meteorologist for the State of Mississippi. In attendance besides the media were Robert Boudin, County Civil Defense Director and Ed Frilloux, Rescue Officer of the Hancock County Fire Departments. The theme of the meeting was preparedness by everyone in case of a hurricane and how information will be given to the residents of Hancock County. In case of a weather threat to Hancock County, no matter what time of the day or night, radio station WPUP will be on the air with continuous weather information. If at night you wake up and the weather is bad, turn on WPUP and if it is on the air, we are under some type of an alert. Stay tuned for further information. Boudin stated that his office has three films that are available on hurricanes and tornadoes and they will be happy to show them to the organization. Frilloux stated that very important information needed by the Fire Departments in Hancock County is the location of all invalids. If invalids will call the Fire Department in their area, firemen will record and mark their residence so location and identification can be made in case of an emergency. Barnes stated that one of the important things too, was to have some plan in case of a hurricane and he wants everyone to look over the "Action Checklist Recap" that follows.

Corps of Engineers was 202 on June 16

Having responsibilities extending through the navigable waterways of Hancock County, the Corps of Engineers, a major component of the U.S. Army, will mark its 202nd anniversary on June 16. The Corps was authorized by the Continental Congress on June 16, 1775; two days after the founding of the U.S. Army. The Mobile District of the Corps of Engineers dates back to 1815 with an initial mission to survey the Gulf Coast for fortification sites. Since that time the district has grown and adapted to meet the changing needs of our nation. This district now covers an area including parts of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Tennessee, Georgia, and the Panama Canal Zone.

In 1824, civil works, or non-military, responsibilities were given the Corps by Congress, marking the beginning of the vast Federal water resources program being accomplished by the Corps today. The Mobile District has major military engineering, design and construction responsibilities for the Army and Air Force in Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida, and the Panama Canal Zone, with a workload estimated at $121 million for fiscal year 1977. The Mobile District also performs real estate, design engineering and construction service for elements of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and has responsibilities of this nature at NASA-NSTL, Hancock County.

Non-military responsibilities of the Corps of Engineers in the Mobile District, estimated at about $125 million for fiscal year 1977, include design, construction, operation and maintenance of Federal dams, locks, lakes, generating plants and navigation channels within the drainage basins of streams flowing into the Gulf of Mexico from the St. Marks River, south of Tallahassee, Florida, to the Pearl River in Louisiana, and coastal harbors and channels and some 350 miles of the protected Gulf Intracoastal Waterway along the entire Mississippi and Alabama Gulf coasts and portions of the coastlines of Louisiana and Florida.

Other responsibilities include the issuance of permits for proposed works affecting navigable waters (with the exception of bridges; a function of the U.S. Coast Guard), flood plain studies, support to the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration program within the civil works boundaries, beach erosion studies, feasibility studies and surveys of proposed public works, and other specialized work as assigned.

The District also acquires, disposes of and manages real estate, including the sale of disposable timber and pulpwood and surplus buildings and facilities for the Army and Air Force. The most significant construction job in the Mobile District at this time is the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, which got underway late in 1972 and currently is the biggest civil works project in the Corps of Engineers. Construction is now about 12 percent complete.

The Mobile District is one of the largest in area and one of the most active of some 36 districts in the continental United States. The workload for the 1977 Federal fiscal year which began October 1, 1976, is estimated at $246 million. The District has a workforce of over 1,700 civilian employees and 12 military officers, and an annual payroll of about $27 million.
